

More About Faith Café

Coffeehouses are big business, there's no doubt. But people aren't going to their local Starbucks just to sip lattes. Why do they go then? They go to relax, to talk, to think. To ask questions and seek answers. To be... authentic. Sounds like something the church should be about, doesn't it?

Faith Café meets the needs of the coffeehouse nation.

- People who don't feel at home in the traditional Sunday school setting.
- People who have questions and don't want pat answers.
- Couples, singles, divorced people—anyone seeking community.
- People from every walk and stage of life—the forgotten, the neglected, the brokenhearted, the outraged, the annoyed, the talented, the underrated.
- Any pastor, teacher, or member who needs this kind of space in their church.

Faith Café Core Values

Community

Creating an environment where people can talk, debate, laugh, and learn together.

Authenticity

Asking honest questions about ourselves, our world, and our God. Hearing the experiences of others on similar journeys and having a place to share our own stories.

Service

Providing encouragement and practical ideas for serving others and bringing lessons to life.

Spiritual Growth

Growing through prayer, Bible study, the faith of others, and spiritual disciplines. Creative spiritual discipline ideas are suggested each week.
